

US POLLS Biden predicts Democrat victory

REUTERS
Rosemont, November 5

US PRESIDENT JOE Biden, battling to show restive voters he has boosted the economy, touted his economic policies on Friday and said he planned to talk with oil companies about high prices and record profits, as he predicted Democrats will prevail in Tuesday's midterms despite polls showing Republican gains.

On a three-day, four-state campaign swing, Biden stopped at Viasat Inc, a US communications firm in Carlsbad, California, to tout efforts to increase semiconductor chip production and resolve supply chain issues that erupted early in his presidency. With some Republican support, Biden signed into law in August the Chips and Science Act to jumpstart domestic semiconductor production in response to slowed production of automobiles and high-tech products like those built by Viasat.

At Viasat, Biden said the government's latest jobs report showing the US economy added 261,000 jobs last month was a sign of progress. He said he planned to have a "come to the Lord" talk with US oil companies soon to complain about their record profits at a time when Americans are paying high prices at the pump.

The meeting is not yet set up, Biden clarified to reporters after the speech, and the White House said the president was just making clear that he was serious about forcing companies to change their behaviour.

Biden left California to attend a Chicago-area fundraiser on Friday night for two Democratic Illinois House members, representatives Lauren Underwood and Sean Casten, both at risk of losing their seats if Republicans do well in midterm elections on Tuesday.
