WAIVER OF PREMATURE PENALTY ON FCNR (B) & NRE TERM DEPOSITS:

Our Bank has relaxed 1% penalty on premature payment of FCNR (B) & NRE term deposits.

In order to waive the penalty on premature withdrawal to renew of FCNR (B) & NRE term Deposits for better rate of interest provided if the customer is ready to renew the deposits for a period more than the residual maturity and the same deposit has run at least for a period of one year at our Bank.

RUPEE LINKED FOREIGN CURRENCY DEPOSIT SCHEME” (RLFCD)

The Term deposit for NRE Term Deposit with comparative yield on interest feature.

After the deregulation of interest rates on NRE TD by Reserve bank of India, our Bank has been quoting interest rates on NRE TDs keeping in view the amount and maturity period of deposits. Our bank has also increased the maximum period of maturity in NRE TDs from five years to ten years.

The interest payable in FCNR (B) deposit scheme is linked to LIBOR/Swap and is low in comparison to NRE and NRO TD. Further, interest earned on NRO TD is taxable.

We have observed that NRIs prefer to invest in NRE TDs than in FCNR (B) and NRO TD. Looking to the prevalent forward exchange market, it is found that funds in INR deposits, if deployed under the Rupee Linked Foreign Currency Deposit Scheme, (RLFCD) the yield is comparatively more than the yield on NRE Term Deposits of the identical period.

If any NRI wants to invest for 1 year period and wants to receive better rate of Interest in INR at maturity.

It is also important that the rates are applicable to only those Transactions having both legs i.e. conversion from INR to Foreign Currency and Foreign Currency to INR on 1 year forward contract rate.
