1.0 Introduction

Social Media is often thought of in terms of a handful of well-known social media sites, such as Facebook, Twitter, YouTube, Instagram and LinkedIn and so forth, but it is actually much more than these few sites. Social media in some ways encompasses the Internet technologies that enable consumers to easily share content online, including but not limited to, social networks, blogs, videos, photos, wikis, online reviews, online check-ins and more. There are thousands of social channels, networks and media tools and the list is growing. Some of them allow the Bank to monitor content in a structured manner (e.g. Facebook, Twitter etc.); some do not allow monitoring (e.g. WhatsApp).

The Bank neither undertakes to be monitoring all these social media platforms at all times nor is obligated to respond to posts made on these regarding the Bank. However, the bank has put in place an online response management process to provide suitable response to comments of the users.

Currently, the most popular networks are Facebook, Twitter, YouTube, Instagram and LinkedIn and Bank of Baroda has presence on all their mediums.
